

Bicycle Storage Made Easy

Shown above is the LiftNStore® Bicycle Lift, model LB-1042 which holds 16 bikes.

Why does overhead bike storage make sense?

1. Bicycles are light but they have big footprints and gobble up floor space quickly.
2. Space for storing pre-built bikes on the sales floor is very limited.
3. Every time a bike is moved it can get dinged or scraped.
4. Climbing a ladder to get a bike off a hook opens the door for mischief with dropped bikes and injuries.
5. It easy for all employees to get bikes down safely, not just the big and strong.
6. Every month you are paying for open empty air space that could be used for optimal storage. Your overhead space suddenly becomes very valuable.

Why would you consider the LiftNStore® Overhead Bicycle Lift?

1. Restocking the sales floor is quick and easy.
2. Storing pre-built bikes makes sense because customers do not have to wait until someone has time to assemble their bike. They can walk out the door with their new bike.
3. Aisles and shelving are open and clear for other merchandise which makes up selling easy.
4. Finding the right bike and maintaining accurate inventory is fast and easy.
5. Shrinkage is reduced because your bikes are out of casual reach and there is a lockable control switch available.
6. If you have enough open floor space you might want to consider the T-bar Option. This lets you hang double the number of bikes by putting the hang bars side by side.
